2. discuss classes and class schedules.
3. use demonstrative adjectives.
4. use ordinal numbers.
5. ask and answer open ended questions.

PROJECTS

PROJECT 1 - CLASS SKIT

With a partner, make a skit talking about your favorite classes, classes that you don't like, and your class schedules.

PROJECT 2 - EDUCATION AROUND THE WORLD

With a partner, pick one of the other English-speaking countries and research the education system. Give a brief presentation about the education system (use as much English as you can - but there may be words that you do not know and things you do not know how to say in your own language). The point of this project is to show how your school system and this English-speaking country's school system are the same and different.

A1 CHAPTER 5

SELF-EVALUATION

I CAN ...	How well do I understand the topic?
	🙂	😐	🙁
1. discuss ideas around clothing.
2. recognize American money and apply it to the cost an item.
3. make informal and formal requests.
4. use direct object pronouns and pronouns after prepositions.
5. discuss weather using the present continuous and future simple.

PROJECTS

PROJECT 1 - FASHION SHOW

You will be putting on a fashion show for the class. During the fashion show each partner will describe the other partner's clothing items while the person walks the "runway". You must describe at least 4 different clothing items that your partner wears in a particular season.

How to prepare:

1. Choose a partner and then choose the 4 clothing items you want to wear for the fashion show.
2. Tell your partner what you want to wear and then write down the items that your partner wants to wear. Make sure to note the item's color and its size. Make up a price about the item.
3. Write your script with a minimum of 6 sentences. Include an introduction of your partner. Then, in your best announcer voice, describe your partner's outfit.

For example:

"In the fall, Maria wears blue jeans and a shirt. This shirt is a pretty pink and costs $50."

You can also include extra comments, just like an announcer would. For example, you can say you like the item, or what brand of clothing it is.

4. Decide who is going to present first, and then the other person will be first to walk in the fashion show.

PROJECTS (CONTINUED)

Day of the presentation:

The first person to walk "the runway" will point to the clothing item as his/her partner describes it. Then, switch roles. Add actions. Be enthusiastic. Have fun!

PROJECT 2 - ONLINE SHOPPING

Let's go shopping! Search online for a clothing store in the United States. Then, search for an outfit from this online store. You need to choose at least three articles of clothing to complete your outfit, and then you will write a short paragraph describing each article of clothing.

For each article of clothing you will write the following in your description:

- what the item is
- what color it is
- how much it costs in US Dollars
- the season in which you will wear this item

A1 CHAPTER 6
